

Dear {contact.first},

Welcome to the June edition of the Clinerion Courier!

Patient Network Explorer's capabilities continue to evolve to make our real-world data more useful to our partner hospitals and to our clients. In this edition of the Courier, we would like to highlight some of the ways in which Patient Network Explorer offers real-world insights.

Enjoy!

Your Clinerion Team.

RWD RADAR: aggregate patient metrics for the real-world data on Patient Network Explorer.

RWD RADAR offers daily-updated, aggregate metrics on patient cohorts and the patient journey, including usage of terminologies, covering diagnoses, medications, laboratory tests, and procedures, across the Patient Network Explorer hospital network.

Statistical Analytics for RWE

Can real world data support drug development with better trial design and real-world evidence? Our collaboration with Datamatrix has uncovered how use of statistical analytics methodologies on electronic health records can build synthetic control arms to supplement clinical trial data for better clinical and regulatory decisions.

Look out for a webinar with Datamatrix to be announced soon!

IMD Career Cluster Day: "Exploring How Big Data is Changing Healthcare for a Better World"

Students from the IMD business school, Lausanne, Switzerland took Clinerion as a case study to explore the changing role of data in healthcare, the logistical and ethical challenges in using this data, how data can be used to improve society, and how this data is changing the industry and creating new career opportunities. The goal was to understand and identify the insights that can be gained from the data (e.g. prediction of COVID-19 trends in Europe).

We congratulate the winners, Simone Grancini, Jing Wang and XiaoYang Wu, who impressed the jury with their grasp on a complex topic that they were not experts in, and were able to run with it and come up with informed, yet out-of-the-box conclusions.

And we thank the jury, the faculty sponsor and the organizers!

The Jury

Katrin Siebenbueger Hacki, Director, Meadows
Bruno Villetelle, Global Head of Data and Digital, Novartis
William Coyle, Principal, ZS Associates

IMD Faculty Sponsor

Louise Muhdi, Affiliate Professor of Innovation and Strategy, IMD

IMD MBA Organizers

Emma James, Anou Sewonu, Dwarakesh Venkatesan

Our team expands!

We are thrilled to welcome Filiz Çavuş, our new Site & Patient Networks Manager!

Filiz is a geneticist experienced in rare diseases, orphan drugs, and named patient, compassionate use and early access programmes.

She aims to help patients get their treatments on time by connecting all stakeholders, globally, using real world data solutions and AI/ML systems.

An Electronic Data Model for a More Efficient Health System in Latin America
(Article in Clinical Research Insider)

How will patient care & drug development evolve in Latin America with the digitalization of patient electronic health records? Will hospitals gain advantages for their research & clinical trials? Clinerion's Daniel Gutierrez says the time to act is now.
